MANCHURIAN COAL FIELDS.

Their Future Prospects. Mr Matsuda, of the South Manchurian

Railway Company, who is in charge of the Fushun coal mine, and has arrived in Tokyo on a visit, in a recent interview made some interesting observations regard. MITSU BISHI COSHI KWAISHA ing the condition of the Fushun coal mine. "Extraordinary misunderstandings" he said, "seem to be entertained by some people with regard to the real value of the Fushun mine. Some estimate it at 2,000 million yer, others again at 10,000 h millions. In the absence of any definite information, its real value has been very much exaggerated. When our company took over the control of the mine from the military authorities, a survey was undertaken by Engineer Kido, who reported the total quantity of coal in the mine to be about 800 million tons. In my opinion it will be in the neighbourhood of 1,000 million tons, though nothing can be known definitely until the completion of the trial boring now going on. Computed on the basis of information available at present, I am inclined to believe that it would be nearer the mark to put the total quantity of coal in the mineat the latter figure. That the future of the Fushun mine is by no means gloomy is readily admitted, but it would be to the advantage of nobolly to recklessly circulate exaggerated reports as to the productivity mine. Our company is, of course, desirous to develop the mine and to increase the output as speedily as possible, but this can hardly be done unless all the preparations, not only these at the mine, but also those SOLE AGENTS for Miyao and Kishidake which have to do with railway and shipping facilities, etc., are completed.

Engineering works at the mine are being pushed forward, but the period of work is limited to the months between April and 816 October, owing to climatic reasons. This circumstance, of course, retards not a little the progress of work. The present scale s based on an estimate of obtaining a daily output of 5,000 tons when the works are completed, after which, the mining operations may be extended, if it is thought advisable to do so. . . . Recently 1,400 tons of Fushun coal were sent to the Tokyo Gas Works and the Shibaura Engineering Works, for the purposes of trial. This has given rise to the report that our company is going to enter into competition to supply the domestic market. Such, however, is not our intention. Where we desire to send our Fushun coal, is to Shanghai and the south. The fact that even in the midst of the industrial commercial depression the price of coal in Japan does not show any tendency to fall proves that the supply is not quite up to the demand and that when industry revives there will be a great rise in its price. It is quite possible that a few years hence Japan will have New little or no surplus of coal to export, and naturally Fushun coal will then be called appon to take its place."

A case of maltreatment of subordinates by an officer of the Japanese Navy is reported, the offender being Sub-Lieutenaut Sako, of the battleship Katori, at present lyingiat Yokosuka, reports the "Nagasaki Press." It appears that on the morning of the 29th ultimo two bluejackets were engaged in cleaning one of the guns, when they accidentally spilled some oil on the deck. The young officer, who was on duty at the time, became very indignant and kicked one of the men so seriously that he became unconscious, while the other was kicked in the face. Some particulars of the assault leaked out, and the matter is now being investigated by the Naval authorities.

JAPANESE POLITICS.

A Modus Vivendi.

TORYO, July 24. Prince Ito, Resident-General in Korea, was received in audience by the Emperor of Japan this morning. The Japanese Press is urging him to remain in Japan. Yesterday Prince Ito and Marquis Saionji, the ex-Premier, called on Marquis Katsura, the Premier, and as a result of in time for Posting with the FRENCE the interview a working agreement was arrived at between the Government and the Soiyukai Party, over which Marquis

CHEE WING & Co., Ex the new Cabinet, and at the same time Wyndham Street, or 8, Queen's increases Marquis Saionji's chances of becoming Premier again. "N. C. Daily

Incidents in the Storm.

There have been some incidents of the storm in Canton, brought to light by the reporters of the native press that may be of additional interest to our readers. It said that immense sums of money were offered by the owners of the floating brothels, and the hags who control the lives of the unfortunate women who reside therein, to chair bearers, who would only con sent to take the poor creatures off under conditions most exacting for the owners of these women.

One young man and his party had a very narrow escape. He was giving a dinuer party in one of these boats, and, when the storm began to burst upon the city, there were twenty-seven persons on the bost, and everything was in confusion. Fortunately there was a small steam launch that was near by, and with great exertion the captain managed to get near the flower boat, and the whole party scrambled on board and thus saved their lives, though they lost everything else that they had with

In front of the yamen of the Tartar General there were three famous trees, and so large are they that it would take the arms of several men to span them. These ancient trees have all been blown down, as well as the ornamental poles that used to be valued so highly. Though his particular yamen seems to have suffered more than any of the others, they were all treated roughly, and the storm will not soon be forgotten. Of course many of these trees fell upon buildings, and, in every case, when this happened the building went to the ground without any hesitation.

LONDON, June 29.

The weather for June is wonderful and all the crew were to be on board when the lall those Colonials who have made this summer their vacation time are enjoying Defendants said that they had received I themselves thoroughly. The attractions of London are also ample this year. Earle Court still runs its exhibition, despite the counter attraction of the great Franco-British exhibition, which is now running in the heyday of its popularity. Every evening the latter place is the scene of a gay gathering of diners and promenaders. and the "White City," as it is called, is making money by the aid of the weather

> Still another attraction has been the International Horse Show with exhibits from all over the world. The American horses are an especially fine show and several of them, ridden by ladies in dashing style in the jumping competitions, have roused great enthusiasm. A party of Indian cavalrymen have also given remarkable exhibitions of horsemanship. An English rider moreover has won steeplechase contests in extraordinary circum stances, for he rode with his foot in plaster of Paris, having broken the bones of the instep while riding in an early event.

His Excellency-You cannot call question the principle on which the Ordinance is based, and I don't think, the Bill having passed its second reading, you can dispute the manner in which the tables are drawn up.

The point was not pressed further. The Hon. Registrar-General submitted on clause 14 there should be an appeal from the decison of the directors where they

The fact that the majority of contributors have since then changed their opinions does not remove objection to the arbitrary nature of those instructions. It appears that steps have been taken to open a Christian Mission at Komchuk, in the Shuntak district. The people of this part of Kwangtung have generally been specially opposed to having chapels and preaching halls in their towns and villages, and being wealthy, or rather having a good many wealthy people dwelling throughout the district, there has been generally some opposition to such an innovation. This is what has happened in this particular instance. The disaffected have compelled the district magistrate to set the facts or fancies of the case before the Viceroy, and to state that there is much opposition to the introduction of Christianity in their

When the Viceroy received this despatch, however, be soon brought the magistrate to his senses. He asked why it was that there was opposition? He wants to know if everything is going on as it should be? He asks if the new rules have been abided by, and if so, what the objection is that can be adduced.' Lastly he wants to know if the particular shop in question is being hired, or bought outright by the Mission in question The District Magistrate therefore is ordered to look at once into the matter, and as certain if the regular rules are recognised, and if so there is not to be any opposition. Neither the people, nor any section of them, must be allowed to stir up strife, and cause any commotion, for the Missionaries have a perfect right to be there, and to preach if they wish so to do, and, if they keep the regulations, no opposition must be allowed by the magistrate.

Only a very few days are allowed the mandarin to make the matter clear for the Vicoroy. This of course will end the matter. It will be found that the opposition has emanated from the minds of very few conservatives, and these have most probably stirred up others. But when they are confronted by the decision of the Vicerov, and have learnt that more porsonal objections can be allowed no weight, then they will subside and things will go on with good feeling, and no one will seriously interfere. It is a good thing when the Vicercy pute his foot down and states the facts as recognised by law, so that both sides may know what to do, for when this course is followed there is little fear of serious

MINING IN CHINA.

A NEGLECTED INDUSTRY.

Copper has been mined in China fo thousands of years, but in spite of that fact, our knowledge of the industry is very rague. Yunnan and Sauchuan are the chief producers. Mines are worked in three localities in Kweichow, and the metal also occurs in Shantung, Kuangtung, Anwhoi and Hupoh. The mines in Yunnan, and Sauchuan are the property of the government, and the local authorities frequently have no little trouble in persuading the miners to recognise that fact. The production though large is insufficient to supply enough metal for subsidiary coinnge and brass and bronze ware, so somewhat variable amounts. 235,000 lbs in 1906, are imported. A few years are the provincial mints began the coinage of t'ung erh or 10 cash pieces, that hundred to the Mexican dellar. These were so popular that they commanded an even higher rate of exchange than that intended. As the profit in minting at the prices of silver and copper then obtaining was from 200 to 300%, according to the purity of the pieces (zine was used in the alloy) it was not remarkable that the provincial authorities ran their mints night and day. The standard of living of the common people being measured in terms of being interested in that district. Yunnan is the principal producer of tin. The mines are at Kochiu ch'ang near Mengize. The ores are reduced locally and the base metal shipped out through Cochin China to Hongkong. The French railroad from Hanoi, in Cochin China now extends as far as Mengtze, offering greatly increased facilities for transportation. Tin also occurs in Honan, Kwangsi and Fokien. The production in Knangsi is small and that of the others is unknown. The island of Hainan contains rich alluvial deposits of

In Shantung gold exists at various places, the best known being at Ping Tu where there is a large and valuable deposit of gold bearing pyrites. This was formerly worked by stamp milling and amalgamation, but on reaching the zone of unaltered sulphides, this did not give a satisfactory extraction and the mine in now closed down. What "improved methods" have to contend with is shown by the fact that the concentrates after having been rebreated could still be sold to the native farmers, who carried them home and occupied their time in the winter by regrinding panning them. Gold is known to occur in Kansu, and there are quartz veins in the upper valley of the Han Ho in Shensl There is a small amount of gold washing along the Han Ho in Hupeh. GREAT PRO-CON-ULS. Why is it that Englishmen make better-

IMPERIAL GERMAN MAIL LINE. colonists of pro-Consuls than Frenchmen One of the reasons is indicated in a thoughtful article in the "Temps," by M. René Perux, dealing with the career of Sir Robert Hart, who has just returned to England after more than 50 years spent in the service of the Chinese Government. It has been often asked, says the writer, by what sorcery Enghlishmen have succeeded in establishing their domination over the world, and by what charm they have been able to retain their influence in the countries of which they were the first conquerors. The example of Sir Robert Hart is there to demonstrate that they owe these splendid results especially to the men who were the artisans of this work the course of the years 1866 and 1878 years in China, one understands to what real patriotic sacrifices on the part of her sons England owes her empire. Men like Sir Robert Hart are not legion; they are, however, numerous. At this side one in China, and who does not know the work accomplished in Egypt by Lord Cromer during a sojourn of 25 years? SPANISH LINER WRECKED.

Heavy Loss of Life.

London, June 25. A terrible shipping disaster occurred yesterday on the north-west coast of Spain. The steamer "Larache," 1,505 tons, owned by the Compania Transatlantica, a Barcolong firm, while attempting to enter the harbour of Muros in a fog struck the rocks at the entrance and foundered. There were 97 passengers and a crew of 53 on board the "Larache." Fishing beats rescued 47; the rest are missing. The steamer sank within eight minutes.

London, June 25. - 65 persons have been saved, many being in a naked condition when rescued. When the vessel struck, a terrific panic ensued on board, and two life-bonts were smashed in the attempt to launch them. Three hours before the disaster 105 passengers from the steamer landed at Vigo. London, June 26;—The late t accounts to hand concerning the wreck of the Spanish liner "Larache," which struck the rocks while entering Muros harbour, on the north-west coast of Spain show that 38 people are missing. Captain Abel, the master of the vessel, leapt into the sea in a half-naked condition, and was thrown ashore. He was unconand was thrown ashore. He was unconscious when picked up, but subsequently THE Company's Steamship HAICHING, recovered.

SAD ACCIDENT TO AN ENGINE DRIVER IN COLOMBO.

painful accident happened to Mr Samuel Lawrence, an Engine Driver, employed by the Colombo Harbour Works, through the fire-box door of his engine flying open and striking him a blow upon the leg causing a severe wound. The history of the years of suffering which followed, and how this wound was finally healed, whilst at the same time he was cured of extreme debility due to watery blood, by Dr Williams' Pink Pills for People was recently told by Mr Lawrence in the following words :- .

"I, Samuel Lawrence, residing at 30; College Street, Kotahena, Colombo, am an Engine Driver by profession, and am employed on the Colombo Harbour Works. Some eight years ago I had an accident through the door of the fire-box on my engine flying open when we were coming round a sharp curve, and striking me a heavy blow upon the left leg, laying the shin open to the bone. The wound grew worse and worse until my whole leg was one long black bruise almost from knee to instep. I was in hospital for forty-five days with this leg, but as soon as I return-"ed to work it began to ooze again, and became as bad as ever. During the six years I suffered with it I used all or so things prescribed by the doctors, but nothing healed the wound up unt 1 Dr Williams' pink pills cured it entirely, and at the same time cured me of another very distressing analody which reemed like laying me up for good and all. "It was about six months ago that I got into a seriously bad state of health through my blood turning into a watery condition. This made me very weak, indeed, my appetite failed me, I had nervousness so bad that I was almost like a man afflicted with Palsy-in fact I could hardly keep a limb still. Even at night my life was made miserable by feverish attacks-I would be in a whiteheat of perspiration one moment and this would be followed by cold chills, just as if I had been plunged into an icccold bath. At this time, too, the wound in my leg became more painful than ever. Often so great was my suffering that I said to my wife 'I cannot stand all this agony much lenger.' The doctors told me that constant exposure to too much heat was the cause of my trouble sworking as I had to do every day close to my engine fire, and with the blazing sun poering down upon the iron roof just over my head-but they could do nothing for me. "When I started taking Dr Williams' pink pills on the advice of a friend, my blood had become like water. I was a feeble, yellow-faced, hopeless man, simply crawling miserably to work every day be- & Co., LD. cause I had to. But after I had taken about two bottles of these Pills I felt a decided improvement, and when I had taken six more not only was my health better still, but the running sore on my leg, which had given me so much trouble and pain for six years, had totally healed up! So I went on taking Dr Williams' | Bangkok, for Bangkok. pink pills for some time longer until I | Glenstrae, for Haiphong. found that I needed them no more. They | Kwanglee, for Canton. had restored me to the pink of condition, Ningpo, for Canton. had given me an excellent appetite, and had restored to me the blessed privilege of Found refreshing sleep.

Mr Lawrence's maladies were due to the bad state of his blood; it is not surprising therefore that Dr Williams' pink pills for pale people-the most perfect blood purifying, blood-strengthening and blood-making medicine in the world-cured him. Those pills, by their unique health-restoring action on the whole system through the blood, have cured thousands of sufferers from anaemia, nervous debility, indiges. Michael, and Albert Stopf. tion, liver complaint, headaches, malaria. rheumatism, sciatica, paralysis, beri-beri, cezema, boils, pimple and skin eruptions; and the after effects of fovers, dysentery and chills. They are the famous remedy for those ailments which afflict so many ladies between youth and middle-age. Men broken down by overwork, excesses or residence in unhealthy climates are speedily restored by their uso. Obtainable at most chops where medicines are sold, and also direct from the Dr Williams' medicine co... Singapore, who send six bottles for eight dollars or one bottle for one dollar and a half post free to any address. As the evidence of Mr Lawrence proves, they are equally good for children as for adults.
